

- >work in a Call center, 24 emergency can't hang up shit.
- >Normally day shift, bunch of people who call in because of stupid.
- >Switch with a night shift worker for a week.
- >She warns me that the pay might be better, and the calls fewer but they get the weirdos..
- >Laugh her off. I have dealt with fingers in car glove boxes
- >Big tough anon is big and tough.
- >Nothing could have prepped me for this...

- >Watlz in at 11:45, feeling good.
- >settle in, find place to lurk on interwebs
- >ahhh heaven. No calls.
- >2 hours in, about to take first break.
- >phone rings
- >Hello, this is anonette, thank you for calling, are you in a safe location
- >silence
- >Customer? Are you there?
- >desperate breathing and static
- > Customer are you safe?
- >"Y-yes.. I.. think?"
- >Do you need me to call an ambulance? the police?
- >"N-no... but I have had a car accident... I need to be picked up."
- >Alright Ma'am phone number so I can call you back?
- >"(123) 456 7890"
- >What did you hit?
- >"An animal..." Sound of static, muffled thump. Woman whimpers slightly.
- > is the car drivable?

- >"M-maybe? It was a big animal..."
- >More thumping and static. Woman whimpers
- >Ma'am is there something outside your car?
- >"I think its still alive but pinned... I can't get the car to start. "
- >Ohshitthecarsnotdrivabledamn
- >Okay ma'am you sure you don't need police?
- >"No no! I... can't have the police come.. I.. shouldn't be driving but I had to get to work and ..."

>woman screams, thumping increases.
>me rush to get the information needed. Shes in a big car, suv, >shes pretty much in the middle of no where south.
>Like banjo fucking deliverance style south.
>It will take an hour just to get the car out to her >thumping is decreasing but the static is increasing.
>Woman is calming down, I am wrapping up.
>approaching 15 minutes on phone.
>Alright, we will be out to you in about an hour. Stay safe, keep your phone handy.
>" I...buzz... tha- thump... help."
> what ma'am?
>fuck middle of nowhere cell receptions
> "-p me -nk y- help"
>your welcome?
>Loud as scream breaking glass static cut off.

>grew up rural, that did not sound good.
>Did she hit a fucking bear and the animal got in?
>Did a moose fucking mirgate southward and decided to ram it?
>dialing like the wind
>ringing static,
>voice mail
>ringing static
>Voice mail.
>ringing static
>"..."
>Ma'am are you okay
>"Y-yes I think."
>"Help me"
>Deja vu.
>Yes someone is coming out you just stay still okay?
>You sure you don't need the police... I heard glass.
>"No! No! It was a big animal."
>"Ah so the animal got out and did some more damage. The thumping is gone."
>my voice echos back softly "The thumping is gone..."
>NOPE.jpg
>"Well thank you for calling, you stay safe."

>"Stay safe."

Click...

>two nights later, have not been sleeping well >tired before the night even begins >roll in, only have 2 more days to go. Nothing creepy has happened. Settling down.

>hear others talking, been a rash of prank calls.

>don't care, just want to get through the night.

>settle down , manager walks over >grim face . jpg

>"Anonette I need you in my office."

>confused but okay.. put myself in manager mode for the phone and go on in >"Anonette, I must remind you that this is a very serious workplace before we began, and as such we need you to tell us the truth. If you lie ..."

>blah blah blah legalites about my work place.

>"Annonette your phone number... its 0987654321 correct? "

>Yeah? glare yes sir

>"Have you ever known a person who used the number 1234567890? "

>Bricks shat. Can't remember numbers worth a damn but this number is about as uncommon as they come. It's the weird lady from two nights ago.

> Uh, I believe that might have been a customer I took care of.

>"Is this customer a friend of yours... a relative? ... a roommate?"

>No? Why?

>"You do realize that calling in to prank call us is a waste of your time and ours right?"

>Wat.jpg

>sir if I did do that I ...

>manager is the nasty type, likes getting people in trouble. I tend to be very good about trying, even if I make dumb mistakes.

>that fucking win grin.

>for those who don't know I live in the south now but I have a distinct accent, coupled with a tendancy to mumble, my voice is very very distinct.

>Manager grins that grin and clicks his mouse.

>"Stay safe!"

>there are like 20 of these calls all during the day time shift. and early night time.

>"Only when your out of the office Anonette. "

>Sir the number is the customers number, its a completely different area than where I live. I sent out a call for this number.

>"Ah yes about that... when the call got out their they reported that no one was there, no signs of a fresh accident, no blood.

Nothing like what your notes say" >jesustakethewheelwhut?

>y-you record my calls the time period should allow you to pull, it was a real call.

>"Yes but how do we know you didn't set it up. This is your voice isn't it?"

> icannotarguewiththatbutitsnotmeohfuck

>"Consider this a warning."

>sent back to the floor in shame

>taking calls, not happy, doing best not to freak out.

>Cannot get that voice that is not mine out of my head.

>phone rings

>yes jesus something else to focus on

>Hello this is anonette tha-

>"Help me"

>Yes I...

>Something familiar about this voice

>look at caller i.d.

>#1234567890

>Nope. nope nope nope nope nope >abort abort abort.

>"help me" static "an animal" static" "I have had a car accident... I need to be picked up"

>Do you want me to call 911 ma'am? T-the police?

>please say yes or like wake me up please.

>"Can't have the police come... shouldn't be driving.."

>nononononono

>Alright ma'am uh... we talked a couple of nights ago, are you safe?

>Ma'am are you safe?

> static click >hyper ventalating.. in mode to do notes. No calls...

>Oh fuck me...

>move on, last night tommorrow just get through this. Its just coincidence.

>ringing

>two types of rings, the one for cust calling your line, the other for in house calls >cust call.

>Hell-

>Screaming down the line mixed with the sound of a fax and some kind of twisted version of what I know to be our theme music.

>Pull headset away fuck!

>Noise stops

>"Stay safe."

> I look around and there are like three other reps, the manager is off the floor.

> "Stay safe..."

> Thats not me... thats not me...

> "Thank you"

> that's not the other woman.

> "This is Anonette."

> no no your not!

> "Keep your phone handy..."

> "we will be out to get you..."

> The room tilts, I taste blood...

> Woke up hours later at the hospital. 3 missed calls on my cell from "1234567890"

>still work their but immediately decided children were less terrifying.

> have porcured job as day care sitter > that face when I still get calls through during my notes from customers

> "Help me." Static "stay safe." Click.

I think I am going insane.
